

Amendments to R01: For actions against trade with endangered species
No	Tabled by	Original text	Proposed amendment	Explanation / comment
1	AM-11-1 Bündnis90/Die Grünen	different criteria based on the classification of the species. The classifications are laid out in appendices to the convention, of which the EUs version is as follows:	From line 10 to 12: different criteria based on the classification of the species. The classifications are laid out in appendices to the convention, of which at the EUs version European level is translated as follows:
2	AM-20-1 Irish Green Party / Comhaontas Glas	inclusion of a species to ensure cooperation with other member states with already existing monitoring	From line 19 to 20: inclusion of a species to ensure cooperation with other member states with already existing monitoring monitoring programmes .	Reads better
3	AM-22-1 Irish Green Party / Comhaontas Glas	Appendix D lists species which aren't included in the previous appendices, but are imported to the EU in an amount that monitoring is justified.	From line 21 to 22: Appendix D lists species which aren't included in the previous appendices, but are imported to the EU in an amount to the extent that monitoring is justified.
4	AM-23-1 Bündnis90/Die Grünen	In 2022 a new Wildlife Action Plan (WAP) was created in the EU to guide the unions' work towards ending wildlife trafficking. This plan has four main priorities:	From line 23 to 25: In 2022 a new Wildlife Action Plan (WAP) was created in adopted by the EU European Commission to guide the unions' work Member States' actions towards ending wildlife trafficking. This plan has four main priorities:

Amendments to R01: For actions against trade with endangered species
	No	Tabled by	Original text	Proposed amendment	Explanation / comment
5	AM-35-1	Bündnis90/Die Grünen	Not all of these animals are hunted in the wild. Quite a few are instead bred in private hands in the EU. At first glance, this might seem a good thing. It could mean that natural populations aren't put under pressure by hunters, and therefore be a positive move towards having healthy populations.	Insert from line 35 to 38: Not all of these animals are collected or hunted in the wild. Quite a few are instead bred in private hands in the EU. At first glance, this might seem a good thing. It could mean that natural populations aren't put under pressure by collectors or hunters, and therefore be a positive move towards having healthy populations.
6	AM-36-1	Green Party of England and Wales	Not all of these animals are hunted in the wild. Quite a few are instead bred in private hands in the EU. At first glance, this might seem a good thing. It could mean that natural populations aren't put under pressure by hunters, and	Delete from line 35 to 37: Not all of these animals are hunted in the wild. Quite a few are instead bred in private hands in the EU . At first glance, this might seem a good thing. It could mean that natural populations aren't put under pressure by hunters, and	Animals are bred in private hands in the EU and other non-EU European countries.
7	AM-38-1	Irish Green Party / Comhaontas Glas	mean that natural populations aren't put under pressure by hunters, and therefore be a positive move towards having healthy populations.	From line 37 to 38: mean that natural populations aren't put under pressure by hunters, and therefore be make a positive move contribution towards having healthy populations.	reads better
8	AM-40-1	Bündnis90/Die Grünen	However, the problem with this trade is that it creates a demand for these products. A demand which drives up prices and makes illegal hunting more profitable. Therefore it is imperative that the EU seeks to abolish the trade and sale of goods relating to endangered animals. As European Greens we support animal rights in every corner of the world and need to acknowledge and make use	From line 39 to 43: However, the problem with this trade is that it creates a demand for these products animals or products derived from them . A demand which drives up prices and makes illegal collection and hunting more profitable. Therefore it is imperative that the EU seeks to abolish the trade and sale of goods relating to live animals of endangered animals species and goods derived from them As European Greens we support animal rights in every corner of the world and need to acknowledge and make use

Amendments to R01: For actions against trade with endangered species
	No	Tabled by	Original text	Proposed amendment	Explanation / comment
9	AM-41-1	Green Party of England and Wales	products. A demand which drives up prices and makes illegal hunting more profitable. Therefore it is imperative that the EU seeks to abolish the trade and sale of goods relating to endangered animals. As European Greens we support	From line 40 to 42: products. A demand which drives up prices and makes illegal hunting more profitable. Therefore it is imperative that the EU seeks European countries seek to abolish the trade and sale of goods relating to endangered animals. As European Greens we support	Removes text that is EU-centric and makes the sentence more inclusive of all EGP member parties
10	AM-52-1	Bündnis90/Die Grünen	cooperation with relevant authorities. All listed species in CITES should be kept record for, in order to make sure	Insert from line 52 to 53: In addition, it is imperative that all Member States adopt legislation encompassing a "positive list for companion animals", which limits the keeping and trade of live animals to those species that are suitable from an animal welfare, conservation as well as human and animal health perspective. Several EU Member States have already developed such positive lists or are in the process to do so. Moreover, recognizing that the EU is amongst the major consumers of wildlife and that only a fraction of the species in trade are currently listed in CITES, it is imperative that EU Member States at least monitor the import and export of all wildlife. Moreover, the EU needs to adopt legislation criminalizing the import, trade and possession of species that are not CITES-listed but protected nationally in their country of origin.
11	AM-53-1	Irish Green Party / Comhaontas Glas	All listed species in CITES should be kept record for, in order to make sure that parts from the animals don't end up on the black market.	From line 53 to 54: All listed species in CITES Records should be kept record for for all listed species in CITES , in order to make sure that parts from the animals don't end up on the black market.	Language correction

Amendments to R01: For actions against trade with endangered species
No	Tabled by	Original text	Proposed amendment	Explanation / comment
12	AM-56-1 Irish Green Party / Comhaontas Glas	Today there is a huge variety in the type of agencies, what level of legislation and what combination of competencies different countries' laws regarding animal trafficking have. This creates loopholes which criminal organisations can use, especially combined with the lack of oversight that countries have over private	From line 56 to 59: Today there is a huge variety in the type of agencies, what the level of legislation, and what combination the strength of competencies different countries' laws regarding related to animal trafficking have . This creates loopholes which criminal organisations can use, especially combined with the lack of oversight that countries have over private	Language
13	AM-60-1 Green Party of England and Wales	especially combined with the lack of oversight that countries have over private owners of CITES-listed animals. To combat this, the EU legislation needs to be translated and adopted into national legislation. A comprehensive Monitoring,	From line 59 to 61: especially combined with the lack of oversight that countries have over private owners of CITES-listed animals. To combat this, the EU legislation new Wildlife Action Plan needs to be translated and adopted into national legislation. A comprehensive Monitoring,	Removes text that is EU-centric and makes the sentence more inclusive of all EGP member parties. Shifts focus to the relevant EU policy.
14	AM-60-2 Bündnis90/Die Grünen	especially combined with the lack of oversight that countries have over private owners of CITES-listed animals. To combat this, the EU legislation needs to be translated and adopted into national legislation. A comprehensive Monitoring, Evaluation and Learning system should also be implemented and law enforcement	From line 59 to 62: especially combined with the lack of oversight that countries have over private owners of CITES-listed animals. To combat this, the EU legislation needs to be better translated and adopted into national legislation and implemented by Member States . A comprehensive Monitoring, Evaluation and Learning system should also be implemented and law enforcement
15	AM-64-1 Bündnis90/Die Grünen	The implementation of the Action Plan should also make use of financial investigations and asset recovery, using approaches which could allow	From line 64 to 65: The implementation of Member states, when implementing the Action Plan should also make use of financial investigations and asset recovery, using approaches which could allow

Amendments to R01: For actions against trade with endangered species
	No	Tabled by	Original text	Proposed amendment	Explanation / comment
16	AM-76-1	Bündnis90/Die Grünen	The private import and export of trophies, for commercial use or other, from CITES-listed animals should therefore be banned within the EU.	From line 76 to 77: The private import and export of trophies, for commercial use or other any use , from CITES-listed animals should therefore be banned within the EU.
17	AM-77-1	Green Party of England and Wales	The private import and export of trophies, for commercial use or other, from CITES-listed animals should therefore be banned within the EU.	From line 76 to 77: The private import and export of trophies, for commercial use or other, from CITES-listed animals should therefore be banned within the EU in all European countries .	Removes text that is EU-centric and makes the sentence more inclusive of all EGP member parties
18	AM-78-1	Bündnis90/Die Grünen	Funding:	In line 78: Funding: Adequate resources:
19	AM-83-1	Green Party of England and Wales	EU institutions and the EU Member States should make efforts to identify and allocate budgets dedicated to implement the Action Plan	From line 83 to 84: EU All appropriate European institutions and the EU Member States all countries should make efforts to identify and allocate budgets dedicated to implement the Action Plan	Removes text that is EU-centric and makes the sentence more inclusive of all EGP member parties
20	AM-85-1	Bündnis90/Die Grünen	Education:	In line 85: Education: Training:

Amendments to R01: For actions against trade with endangered species
	No	Tabled by	Original text	Proposed amendment	Explanation / comment
21	AM-87-1	Irish Green Party / Comhaontas Glas	National law enforcement agencies need to be fully mobilised, trained and specialised to investigate and prosecute this type of crime and have clear and followable national targets. This goes for customs officials as well as actors in the traditional legal system. CSOs should also be acknowledged and supported	From line 86 to 89: National law enforcement agencies need to be fully mobilised, trained and specialised to investigate and prosecute this type of crime and have clear and followable national targets equipped with specialised personnel to investigate and prosecute this type of crime . This goes for customs officials as well as actors in the traditional legal system. CSOs should also be acknowledged and supported
22	AM-92-1	Green Party of England and Wales	Calls upon every Member State of the EU to create a register of each CITES-listed animal kept in private hands, including those owned by	From line 92 to 93: Calls upon every Member State of the EU European country to create a register of each CITES-listed animal kept in private hands, including those owned by	Removes text that is EU-centric and makes the sentence more inclusive of all EGP member parties
23	AM-97-1	Green Party of England and Wales	Calls upon every Member State of the EU to ban the farming and breeding of CITES-listed animals in all cases except for the conservation of natural	From line 97 to 98: Calls upon every Member State of the EU European country to ban the farming and breeding of CITES-listed animals in all cases except for the conservation of natural	Removes text that is EU-centric and makes the sentence more inclusive of all EGP member parties
24	AM-98-2	Vihreät - De Gröna	Calls upon every Member State of the EU to ban the farming and breeding of CITES-listed animals in all cases except for the conservation of natural populations	Delete from line 97 to 99: Calls upon every Member State of the EU to ban the farming and breeding of CITES-listed animals in all cases except for the conservation of natural populations	Now the wording gives the impression that you shouldn't breed in captivity at all. However, it is true that without zoos, many species would become extinct because natural populations are so weak. Zoos are deeply affected and their operations must be changed, but the fact that animals cannot reproduce at all in captivity does not work.

Amendments to R01: For actions against trade with endangered species
No	Tabled by	Original text	Proposed amendment	Explanation / comment
25	AM-99-1 Bündnis90/Die Grünen	CITES-listed animals in all cases except for the conservation of natural populations Calls upon every Member State of the EU to ban the private import and export of trophies, for commercial use or other, from CITES-listed animals	Insert from line 98 to 99: CITES-listed animals in all cases except for the conservation of natural populations. Responsible commercial farming and breeding of otherwise extinct CITES-listed animals that contribute to the conservation of populations could be exempt from the ban. Calls upon the EU and all Member States to 1) adopt legislation encompassing a "positive list", which limits the keeping and trade of companion animals to those species suitable from an animal welfare, conservation, as well as human and animal health perspective 2) adopt legislation criminalizing the import, export, trade and possession of species that are not CITES-listed but protected nationally in their country of origin 3) monitor the import and export of all wildlife and products derived from them From line 107 to 108: Calls upon every Member State of the EU to ban the private import and export of trophies, for commercial-use-or-otherany use, from CITES-listed animals
26	AM-100-1 Green Party of England and Wales	Calls upon every Member State of the EU to identify and allocate dedicated budgets to ensure that sufficient funds and human resources are available	From line 100 to 101: Calls upon every Member State of the EUEuropean country to identify and allocate dedicated budgets to ensure that sufficient funds and human resources are available	Removes text that is EU-centric and makes the sentence more inclusive of all EGP member parties

Amendments to R01: For actions against trade with endangered species
No	Tabled by	Original text	Proposed amendment	Explanation / comment
27	AM-103-1 Green Party of England and Wales	to the relevant authorities to ensure the successful implementation of the EU WAP.	Delete from line 102 to 103: to the relevant authorities to ensure the successful implementation of the EU -WAP.	Removes text that is EU-centric
28	AM-104-1 Green Party of England and Wales	Calls upon every Member State of the EU to promote the cooperation and coordination between different levels of authorities as well as with CSOs	From line 104 to 105: Calls upon every Member State of the EU European country to promote the cooperation and coordination between different levels of authorities as well as with CSOs	Removes text that is EU-centric and makes the sentence more inclusive of all EGP member parties
29	AM-107-1 Green Party of England and Wales	Calls upon every Member State of the EU to ban the private import and export of trophies, for commercial use or other, from CITES-listed animals	From line 107 to 108: Calls upon every Member State of the EU European country to ban the private import and export of trophies, for commercial use or other, from CITES-listed animals	Removes text that is EU-centric and makes the sentence more inclusive of all EGP member parties
30	AM-109-1 Green Party of England and Wales	Calls upon every Member State of the EU to promote the training and specialisation of national law enforcement to combat animal trafficking	From line 109 to 110: Calls upon every Member State of the EU European country to promote the training and specialisation of national law enforcement to combat animal trafficking	Removes text that is EU-centric and makes the sentence more inclusive of all EGP member parties
31	AM-110-1 Die Grünen	specialisation of national law enforcement to combat animal trafficking	Insert after line 110: [Newline] "Calls upon every Member State of the EU and all relevant EU authorities for an ambitious implementation of all Actions of the Wildlife Action Plan."		