| 6  | FYEG                     | 27    | replace | For this and other reasons, development needs to be measured with means other than GDP.   | We are critical of the concept of "development" altogether, we support global justice and do need other measures than GDP   | The term "development" is debated quite a lot. For some it implies taking the same "development path" like the "West". It is also criticised, since the term development is often defined by powerful "Development Organisation" like that World Bank and the IMF that use it to impose measures in the name of development that goes against the democratic decisions of the people. On the other hand, many countries of the Global South use this term. Therefore we want to state our critical approach towards the concept of development |
