1	Austrian Greens	4 - 6	replace	From the very beginning, it has been a specific form of external aggression of the Russian Federation, which uses marginalized representatives of the local population, mercenaries, and regular units of the Russian armed forces in ist power-crushing capacity.	From the very beginning of the armed conflict, there has also been, besides the political conflict in Ukraine, a specific form of external aggression of the Russian Federation. They have tried to instrumentalize local representatives, mercenaries, even Russian armed-forces to implement Russia's interests.	CAS accepted

2	Austrian Greens	8 - 10	replace	For the purpose of taking actions, which are blatant violations of international law and norms of 9 civilized co-existence on the whole, Russia uses satellite pseudo-government structures of so-called Donetsk and Luhansk "People's Republics", whose emergence and existence have become possible solely because of comprehensive support from the Russian Federation.	The so-called Donetsk and Luhansk "Peoples Republics" can only survive exist poorly because of support from the Russian Federation.	CAS accepted as amended: The so-called Donetsk and Luhansk "Peoples Republics" can barely survive and only because of support from the Russian Federation.
3	EELV	12	replace	Ukraine does not control almost 400 km of the Ukrainian-Russian border	Ukraine lost control of nearly 400 km of the Ukrainian-Russian border	CAS accepted
4	Austrian Greens	17 - 18	delete	Therefore, there are sufficient grounds to deem the Ukrainian territory, taken up by the pseudo-republics, to be occupied and to identify the whole conflict as a "hybrid war" .		CAS accepted original text as amended: Therefore, there are sufficient grounds to consider the Ukrainian territory, taken up by the pseudo-republics, to be occupied.

5	German Greens	18	add new text		In general we European Greens appreciate that the international fold and in particular the European Union made the decision to react to this Russian aggression not with military action but by finding a political solution together with Ukraine and Russia. The international fold rightly agreed on sanctions in response to Russia's cruel infringement of international law and should hold on to these as long as the Russian administration does not keep to the international norms, rules and values as formulated in the Charter of Paris for a New Europe in 1990. Therefore we will not endorse any repeal of the sanctions towards Russia, as long as the Russian administration is not willing to fullfil the Minsk agreement. 9	German Greens	25 - 29	replace	However, participants in the negotiation of the "Normandy format" ignore these arguments and still insist on conducting the election on these very terms and conditions.	Therefore, it is necessary that elections will only be held according to transparent rules in the Ukrainian law as provided by the Minsk agreement. We condemn Russia's attempts to reinforce/ insist/enforce requirements to political and legal positions of its satellites	CAS accepted as amended: Therefore, it is necessary that elections will only be held according to transparent rules in the Ukrainian law as provided by the Minsk agreement.
10	Groen	29 - 35	replace	Such a requirement ... many other countries.	Ukraine needs to be able to continue its transition into a true democracy. Elections in the occupied territories of Donetsk, Luhansk and Crimea can only be truly fair and free when citizens no longer suffer from military operations.	CAS accepted as amended: Ukraine needs to be able to continue its transition into a true democracy. Elections in the territories of Donetsk, Luhansk and Crimea can only be truly fair and free when citizens no longer suffer from military operations.
11	Austrian Greens	31 - 35	delete	However, the use of such an approach by EU Member States, who are engaged in the Normandy Process, can be explained only by attempts of, "pacification of the aggressor", while the latter demonstrates neo-imperial ambitions and seeks to resume "the Rule of Force", as opposed to the Rule of Law, in its relationships, not only with Ukraine, but also with many other countries.		falls to 10

13	German Greens	38 - 40	replace	In 1992, Russia triggered military aggression and Moldovan territorial disintegration, as a result of the Transnistria War. Georgia also became the victim of brutal violations of international law in 1992 and 2008, losing part of its territory.	Revisionist attempts to execute political, military and economic influence have been and still are an essential part of Russia's policy towards sovereign post-Soviet countries.	VOTE
14	Austrian Greens and German Greens	40 - 42	delete	Lack of appropriate reactions from international institutions finally made the aggression against Ukraine possible.		CAS accepted as amended: We have to analyse if the political reactions of the international institutions to the above mentioned conflicts (to add "in Moldova and Georgia" if AM13 is carried) as well as the Ukrainian one, have been appropriate and early enough to stop the aggression against Ukraine.
15	Groen	40 - 42	delete	Lack of appropriate reactions ... possible.		falls
16	Cyprus Greens	44 - 47	delete	Russian military aggression aims not just at Ukraine. It is targeted on those European values which Ukraine seeks to share , on the established rules of international co-existence, and on the rules for interrelationships in the civilized world which are based on the principles of equality and mutual respect.		CAS accepted as amended: Russia has a geopolitical interest in preserving frozen conflicts, which we can not accept. But the Russian military aggressions against Ukraine are not only geopolitical. Their actions target international values, which Ukraine seeks to share, the established rules of international co-existence, and the rules of interrelationships in the civilized world which are based on the principles of equality and mutual respect.

17	Austrian Greens	49 - 57	replace	In view of the above, the 5th Congress of European Greens urge that the European Union advocate and protect its own fundamental values whose destiny is being decided in the current armed conflict in Eastern Ukraine. The EU policy of little resistance or self-withdrawal from resolving the conflict will have fatal consequences, not only for the Ukrainian democracy, but also for other post-Soviet states, and for the European Union itself. The European Green Party urges the Greens in the European Parliament do everything in their power to prevent further progression of such events, desirable only for Russia, in Ukraine and in other countries.	The European Green Party urges the Greens in the European Parliament to do everything in their power to promote and stand up for a peaceful solution of the conflict in Ukraine, to reengage into building trust on eye-level, and to finally rebuild a mutual understanding of each others value system in the long run.	CAS accepted as amended: The European Green Party urges the Greens in the European Parliament to do everything in their power to promote and stand up for a peaceful solution of the conflict in Ukraine, to reengage into building trust and mutual understanding.

18	Groen	49 - 53	replace	In view of the above ... European Union itself.	In view of the above, the 5th Congress of European Greens insists that the European Union keeps working on a peaceful resolution of the conflict in Eastern Ukraine. The Congress asks that the EU and all its Member-States continue to uphold economic and political sanctions against Russia and its leaders. Furthermore, the EU should intensify its support for the democratic transition in Ukraine through aid programs for economic relief, democracy strengthening and capacity building.	CAS accepted
19	German Greens	51 - 53	replace	The EU policy of little resistance or self-withdrawal from resolving the conflict will have fatal consequences, not only for the Ukrainian democracy, but also for other post-Soviet states, and for the European Union itself.	We reaffirm our hope that Russia recollects and accepts its commitment to the principle of the rule of law in Europe as stated in Charter of Paris for a New Europe which it signed once among others in 1990. Therefore we appreciate the negotiations for a political and peaceful solution of the conflict. For us it is essential that during these negotiations nothing will be agreed on about Ukraine and its territory without the approval of the legally elected Ukrainian government.	order 19 - 17 - 18 is agreed - CAS accepted

20	EELV	55 - 57	delete and replace	The European Green Party urges the Greens in the European Parliament do everything in the power to prevent further progression of such events, desirable only for Russia, in Ukraine and in other countries.	As the stationing of Western planes in the Baltic States showed, Russia understands that the former States' liberty, as well as the Ukrainian freedom and territorial integrity, is as much ours as it is theirs. Thus the European Green Party urges the Greens in the European Parliament to do everything in their power to support the democratic opposition in Ukraine and namely in its eastern regions in order to uphold the democratic values these have recently adopted, as a signal of the EU determination not to accept further Russian agressions.
