From line 14 to 15: and focus solely on environmental ones, we, as European Greens, demand that mining and, consequently, cryptocurrency trading should be stopped immediately banned, enforcing an international agreement .	Mining is not necessarily the way to create the blockchain technology based cryptocurrencies. Cryptocurrencies can serve as a way out of debt-based economic model, in which the commercial institutions effectively emit money through loans and thus, cause economic crises. As the blockchain technology guarantees stable amount of money on the market, the cryptocurrencies, if effectively controlled by international agreements, may serve as the basis of financial system for future. Thus, we call the EU and national governments to take all necessary measures and establish regulations to minimize the negative impact of cryptocurrency use in benefit of the mankind.
