2	ICV	7	add	... self-government of Catalan institutions.	... self-government of Catalan institutions and establish more and better mechanisms for a participatory democracy	CAS accepted
3	ICV	14	add	...to calls to find a new arrangement. More recently..	...to calls to find a new arrangement. A political attitude of Mr. Rajoy and its government that we have been rejecting for many years. More recently..	CAS Accepted as amended: This is a political attitude of Mr. Rajoy and his government that we have been rejecting for many years.
4	ICV	17-18	replace	Unless the situation de-escalates, we could soon be facing a dramatic situation.	After a failed Unilateral Declaration of Independence on October 27th, the Spanish government took the steps (triggering the famous 155 article of the Constitution) to remove the Catalan government and set fresh Catalan parliamentary elections for next December, 21st. Additionally, the judiciary system imprisoned in custody pending trial some of the political and social leaders of the separatist movement with severe accusations. The unilateralist independence process has imploded but unless the situation de-escalates, we could soon be facing a dramatic situation again. It is widely shared that Catalan society cannot longer afford this political tension and there is a growing desire for social and democratic normalization.	CAS accepted
5	ICV	23-27	delete/ add/replace	The Catalan government should abandon the use and threat of the 'Unilateral Declaration of Independence', and the Spanish government should not disproportionally distort Catalan self-government to avoid the former, removing threats to completely suspend the current political autonomy.	The next Catalan government should abandon the threat of another 'Unilateral Declaration of Independence', and the Spanish government should not distort Catalan self-government to avoid the former after new elections take place , removing threats to suspend the current political autonomy.	CAS accepted
6	FYEG	43-44	replace	"We do not accept the results of the so-called referendum that took place on 1st October, in Catalonia, as valid, given the absence of minimum procedural guarantees, as acknowledged by international observers, and given that it was not recognised as such by most of the Catalan people."	We do not recognise the civil mobilisation that took place on 1st October, in Catalonia, as a referendum , given the absence of minimum procedural guarantees, as acknowledged by international observers, and given that it was not recognised as such by most of the Catalan people".	CAS accepted as amended: We do not recognise the civil mobilisation that took place on 1st October, in Catalonia, as a referendum. There is no basis for legitimate unilateral steps towards independence, and in particular the Unilateral Declaration of Independence. We do not accept the results, and the fact that there were no minimum procedural guarantees, and that it was not recognised as such by most of the Catalan people, sustains our opinion.
7	ICV	43-48	add new point 4		4. We consider it disproportionate to jail preemptively Catalan separatists who are currently on custody pending trial in prison. We expect that Spanish judiciary system takes necessary steps to release them from provisional detention as soon as possible.	CAS accepted as amended 4. We consider the arrests of Catalan separatists who are currently in custody, pending trial, to be arbitrary. We expect that Spanish judiciary system takes necessary steps to release them from provisional detention as soon as possible.
8	ICV	48	add	... and in particular the Unilateral Declaration of Independence.	... and in particular the Unilateral Declaration of Independence already promoted by the Catalan government and parliament.	falls

9	Scottish Greens	43-48	delete point 4	We do not accept the results of the so-called referendum that took place on 1st October, in Catalonia, as valid, given the absence of minimum procedural guarantees, as acknowledged by international observers, and given that it was not recognised as such by most of the Catalan people. Therefore, it has no basis for legitimate unilateral steps towards independence, and in particular the Unilateral Declaration of Independence.		falls
9A	Vihreät	50-52	add	Assuming the values that are the foundation of the European Union, we call for a negotiated resolution of the political conflict which aligns the respect for the rule of law with the main aspirations for change in the current situation.	Assuming the values that are the foundation of the European Union, we call for a negotiated resolution of the political conflict which aligns the respect for the rule of law with the main aspirations for change in the current situation and which requires the constitutional acceptance of Spain's plurinationality.	CAS accepted as amended:and which currently requires the constitutional acceptance of Spain's plurinationality, establishing fraternal links between Catalan society and the rest of Spain while defusing the hate dynamics, and building a more democratic European Union to bury old grievances.
9B	Vihreät	52- 53	delete	The agreement should be validated through an agreed referendum.		CAS accepted as amended: The agreement should be validated through agreed referenda; in Catalonia concerning the Catalanian Statutes and in Spain for the renewed Spanish Constitution.
10	Scottish Greens	55-60	delete point 6	In our opinion, the political solution requires the constitutional acceptance of Spain's plurinationality, a reformed institutional framework that modernises the Spanish state, making it compatible with widely shared demands of the Catalan people, establishing fraternal links between Catalan society and the rest of Spain while defusing the hate dynamics, and building a more democratic European Union to bury old grievances.		withdrawn
