Clearly against candidate for Commission President, because it is not realistic at all; clearly in favor of two top candidates - better distribution of work, especially if they have to wage their own election campaigns in their homecountries as well.

4	déi gréng Luxembou rg	24	47	delete	Council requests the Committee to prepare the organisation of the election of one leading Green candidate by means of an open online primary and by a process that provides equal promotion and equal representation from the EGP. Candidates will be invited by the EGP to present themselves as of September 2013. Candidates must be eligible for election to the European Parliament. The candidates must present themselves for the European list on one of the lists (including alliances) of the Member Parties. They must present their political agenda in maximum two pages, be prepared to travel across the EU, to represent the Greens in the leading transnational debates with the other political families and to campaign transnationally to support member parties campaign activities. Each candidate must have the support of at least 5 of the EU282 parties. The deadline for applications is three weeks before the Autumn Council 2013. The parties can only support one candidate. We consider the one leading EGP candidate to be the heart and the face of our campaign and the representative of our political family throughout the campaign. We will also express clearly that the Green leading candidate would be our choice for the EU Commission President, should the opportunity arise. Council instructs the Committee to further develop the process for the primary. The primary is open to the public for European Union citizens as of the age of 16 from the EU28 who pledge adherence to the Green cause and who are eligible to vote. 5	Bündnis90/ Die Grünen	26	27	replace	Candidates will be invited by the EGP to present themselves as of September 2013.	Interested Candidates will be invited by the EGP to present themselves no later than September 15th 2013.

6	Bündnis90/ Die Grünen	31	32	replace	Each candidate must have the support of at least 5 of the EU28 parties.	A Member Party can only support one candidate. After interested candidates have declared their interest for running as a leading candidate for the European Greens, Member Parties can give their support for a candidate from October 1st to November 1st. This allows Member Parties to get a full overview of the candidates before deciding whom to officially support. Each candidate for this primary has to receive support of at least 5 of the EU28 parties before the November 1st deadline. The Member Party of interested candidates must officially nominate them for the primary.
7	EELV, France	31	32	add	Each candidate must have the support of at least 5 of the EU28 parties	Each candidate must have the support of at least 5 of the EU 28 parties and 15 delegates from at least 4 different parties	We believe that this cross-party initiative to designate a common candidate for the campaign and European Commission presidency is an essential measure to europeanise the elections in 2014 and reinforce the awareness of EU citizenship. This is a symbolic but necessary step to strengthen the EU democratic structure and towards a post-national democracy. In order to prevent any nationalistic feelings and strategy for our primary, we would like to improve the process of candidacy by adding and modifying some conditions: including the support of national delegates to the EGP.

8	Bündnis90/ Die Grünen	32	33	delete	The deadline for applications is three weeks before the Autumn Council 2013. The parties can only support one candidate.
9	EELV, France	33		replace	The parties can only support one candidate.	The parties can support the candidacies of as many candidate as they wish.	This proposal aims at ensuring diversity within national parties and allowing the individual liberty of choice and ownership of the European green movement. This proposal is meant to feed the debate and find collectively the best way to organise these primaries according to our European democratic views.
10	Die Grünen Austria	37	38	change and addend um	The primary is open to the public for European Union citizens as of the age of 16 from the EU28 who pledge adherence to the Green cause and who are eligible to vote.	The primary is open for all green party members as of the age of 16 from the EU-28.
11	Bündnis90/ Die Grünen	37	47	replace	Council instructs the Committee to further develop the process for the primary. The primary is open to the public for European Union citizens as of the age of 16 from the EU28 who pledge adherence to the Green cause and who are eligible to vote. The Committee has to organise this process guaranteeing the credibility and safety of the system used, the accountability and transparency of the system and the process, and anonymity for the voter.	Council instructs the Committee to further develop the organisation of the primary for the Autumn Council. This process should be open to EU28 citizens from the age of 16. The proposed process must be credible, safe, accountable and transparent as well as provide anonymity to the voter.

13	Bündnis90/ Die Grünen	47		add		The Autumn Council 2013 has to officially decide upon the start of the European-wide primary to elect one leading Green candidate for the 2014 European election. The Council requests that final details on the developed process and organisation of the primary will be sent out to Member Parties by September 30th.
14	GroenLinks	48	50	replace	in 2014 two one day Green electoral Congresses in the run up for the campaign, the first to adopt the manifesto and present the leading candidate and the second to open the 'hot' phase of the common campaign in one of the leading capitals of Europe.	in 2014 one Green electoral Congress in the run up for the campaign, during which the Common Manifesto is adopted, the leading candidate is presented and during which the 'hot phase' of the common campaign is opened.	Two one day congresses are an inefficient use of money and time, not to mention the cost of double traveling. Moreover, it can be expected that the presentation of the leading candidate draws by far the most media attention, so that is an excellent (and the most viable) way of drawing media attention to our hot phase as well.
