Training and education

At the moment when enlarged Europe starts to exist, it is fundamental for the EGP to launch a strong initiative to allow youth to have a better understanding of the stakes of the European cooperation and to enjoy the benefits of a truly transnational culture.

For that, the EGP, in its project for 2009, will propose to:

- Strengthening the European and global dimension in national education programs.
- promote education to ecology by specific courses in all the member States.
- harmonize the system of diplomas.
- increase fivefold the number of European students having the benefit of a “Erasmus”, “Socrates” or “Leonardo” grant.
